

Stop Racist Noose Incidents & Workplace Bullying At SF Recology
Mon, July 27, 12pm – 1pm
SF Recology, 501 Tunnel Ave., San Francisco

Daryle Washington, an IBT 350 member and worker at the Recology Company in San Francisco has faced a hanging noose and other racist attacks at the Recology Company. For speaking up against these assaults Washington faced retaliation and workplace bullying when he blew the whistle on these racist incidents against him and other workers at the facility.

We call for Recology to immediately take action to stop these incidents and end the retaliation against Daryle Washington.

Other workers and trade unionists will be speaking out against the continuing hanging noose incidents and also the epidemic of workplace bullying.
