The 1999 bond measure to rebuild Laguna Honda approved by the voters contained a fatal flaw that has allowed the City to use Laguna Honda as a catch basin for San Francisco General's overflow patients, rather than as a facility for seniors, its historical use and the use understood by voters when we passed the bond measure. Young, violent and mentally ill patients do not mix well with seniors and the disabled, and too many have been harmed by the City's bad judgment.

A grass-roots initiative effort is collecting signatures for the June 2006 San Francisco municipal ballot to establish a Laguna Honda Hospital Special Use District to protect and conserve Laguna Honda as a valuable and irreplaceable health care facility needed for San Francisco's frail, elderly and physically disabled residents requiring long-term skilled nursing care. Specialty medical units such as hospice, AIDS, and respite care will continue to be permitted uses in the special use district.

San Franciscans for Laguna Honda is holding a rally to inform the public about how to help. Please join us – the time is short and our seniors are at great risk!

KEEP THE PROMISE

If you believe elderly and disabled San Franciscans are entitled to a safe, peaceful, and caring place in which to live, please drop by the rally.
